Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 11, last line, "block 220" is not where data signal amplifier 206 is again deactivated, as stated. It appears that this should read "block 222".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over van Dinteren et al.

Van Dinteren et al discloses a remotely controlled battery operated blind that anticipates the present invention as recited (see in particular, column 5, lines 43-61) with the exception of specifically disclosing the amplifiers. However, such are well known in the remote control receiver art and providing such in the van Dinteren device would have been well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
